

Preliminary population statistics

2013, January

Finland's preliminary population figure 5,428,570 at the end of January

According to Statistics Finland's preliminary data, Finland's population at the end of January was 5,428,570. Finland's population grew by 1,450 persons during January, which is 250 persons more than in the preliminary data for the corresponding period of the year before. The main reason for the population increase was migration gain from abroad: the number of immigrants was 1,300 higher than that of emigrants. Natural population growth, or excess of births to deaths, was 150 persons.
